PACKING NOTES1. PACKING STANDARD

All packages are export-packed to withstand ocean carriage and ordinary handling between origin warehouse and the named discharge terminal. Crates are assembled from seasoned lumber, corner-braced, and bandaged to the pallet base. Silica gel and vapor-barrier lining protect electronics-grade contents against condensation en route.

2. MARKING AND NUMBERING

Each package carries side-and-end marking with the consignee mark, destination port, contract serial, and the sequential crate number in the form shown in the marks panel above. Marking is stenciled in waterproof black ink; any package found unmarked or illegible must be re-marked before loading and noted on the carrier receipt.

3. WEIGHT SCHEDULE

The crate schedule on page two lists the net, tare, and gross mass of every package together with its external dimensions and cubature in cubic meters. Individual figures are rounded to two decimals and the schedule closes exactly against the summary panel on page one; any discrepancy discovered at tally must be reported before sign-off.

4. RELATED DOCUMENTS

This packing list is issued as a companion to the commercial invoice covering the same consignment and shares its references, parties, transport details, and container identity. It does not convey title or transfer risk; customs valuation must be made from the invoice, using this schedule solely for examination convenience.

5. CONTAINER STUFFING

Packages were stuffed into the container identified above in numerical order, dunnaged and braced per the carrier's cargo stowage guide, and the doors sealed at the stuffing depot. The seal number recorded on this document must agree with the transport documents presented at destination; a broken or mismatched seal constitutes grounds for joint survey before delivery.
